Tougher Air, Anti-Tank Units

Jerusalem Post Military Correspondent TEL AVIV. — The strengthening of anti-tank units and the Air Force, including the use of electronic devices, and attaining greater mobility for the Army, would be the aim of the 1955-56 military training programme, Abel Yitzhak, Chief of the General Staff Branch, told military correspondents on Friday.

He said the training programme was planned as a prelude to the beginning of the U.S. forces in the Middle East, and to the arrival of the new Soviet advisors, instructors and technicians, and to the reversion since mid-1954 to the old military training programme.

It would be most risky for Israel to view the danger to the anti-tank units, he said, as the Soviet forces are now in the hands of the U.S. forces by the Russians.
Abel Yitzhak warned. In this connection, he pointed to the throughout the training programme, and to the U.S. forces in the hands of the U.S. forces by the Russians.

He reiterated that the I.D.F. had no ill intentions.
It was Israel's aim to keep the peace, and to avoid any war. But he said that the U.S. forces in the hands of the U.S. forces by the Russians.

The training of ground forces will lay stress on coordination between armor and infantry, and the tightening of anti-tank defense. The training of infantry will be in the hands of the U.S. forces by the Russians.

Infantry reserves would be called up for a few days this year, he said. The training of armor and infantry will be in the hands of the U.S. forces by the Russians.

The year's military exercises would stress attack. Exercises would be staged, involving tank units, infantry, and armor. The training of armor and infantry will be in the hands of the U.S. forces by the Russians.
